Dear Parents:

Summer comes and goes quickly and all of us want to make the most of the season. This directory will help you find activities families can enjoy together and for your children. Summer is a wonderful time for students to participate in a program that can provide new experiences and reinforce skills learned during the school year to support year-round learning. This helps to prevent “summer learning loss” and keeps kids engaged in positive ways.

Finding an affordable summer program that meets your needs can be a challenge. The directory lists a variety of camp, tutorial and other summer programs that are available throughout Hartford and the surrounding area, as well as a park and pool schedules, free lunch programs, and other activities. Youth programs offer a combination of activities to promote learning and youth development. Options for both youth and adults with disabilities, as well as for senior citizens, are included.

Look through the directory and use the information to decide what programs are best for your children, teens, elderly or other family members. If there is a charge for the program, it is noted; however, a number of programs are offered free, or at reduced fees based on income. We recommend registering as early as possible and checking with program staff whether financial aid is available.

Helping You Plan Summer Activities

What's in the Directory?

- A summary of Hartford Public Schools (HPS) Early Start and other HPS summer programs. For more information, visit www.hartfordschools.org
- A description of City of Hartford summer programs
- Other summer opportunities including job training for youth and adults

What should I know before I get started?

Begin by exploring with your children their interests in activities offered in the summer program listings. Also, be sure to talk with their teachers about their academic needs and whether your child may be required to attend summer school. You will need to be sure that the programs you choose won't conflict with summer school dates and times, and to identify times during the summer your children will be able to participate in additional summer programs.

If your child is required to attend summer school, find out in what school the sessions will take place, and check the program listings (or ask school staff) for summer programs operating in or near the school that your child will be attending, so that they can participate in programs after summer school ends each day.

Also, please be aware that a number of the day programs are located in Hartford area schools. Be sure to check with staff to confirm locations and schedules.

Can my child attend both the Hartford Public Schools Early Start or other HPS morning programs, and a summer camp or other community program?

Yes. The Hartford Public Schools Intervention 2015 (Early Start) or other program sessions are held either in the morning or afternoon and a number of the summer camps and other community programs offer half-day sessions. So, if your child is attending Early Start or other HPS programs, he or she can attend a camp or other community program either for a half-day or participate in a full-day program during June or July before summer school is in session. Many of the Hartford school-based programs are designed to provide enrichment activities around the summer school sessions.

A few programs also continue after summer school ends in August. Youth not participating in HPS summer programs may enroll in a full-day community program. For details on the Hartford Public Schools Early Start and other programs, please refer to the summary in this directory. For additional details, visit the HPS website: www.hartfordschools.org.

What's in each summer program listing?

1. Program location
2. Activities offered
3. Area and ages served
4. Start and end-dates and length of each session

Note: A summer program may be open for six weeks or more, but campers normally attend for one- or two-week sessions, not all six weeks. Some programs allow participants to attend multiple sessions. Other programs may restrict the number of sessions each participant may attend. Several of the CIT and tutorial programs require youth to participate for a longer period so they can get the full benefit of the program. Contact the program that interests you for more information.

- 5. Fees and financial aid: Some programs have fees. If you are unable to pay the program fee, please contact the program anyway. Many programs offer “camperships,” which are similar to scholarships. Your child may qualify for a campership or reduced fee based on family income. Be sure to contact the program that interests you as soon as possible to find out, and note the “◆” and “✦” symbols used in this directory to indicate when programs offer free or reduced fees to qualified applicants.
- 6. Transportation: Some programs provide transportation. This is noted in the listing.
- 7. Registration deadline/program contacts: The registration deadline and program staff contact information are listed, but don’t wait until the deadline to call. Call as soon as possible to help ensure that your child and other family members can participate in the program of their choice. If the registration deadline has passed, call the program to see if space is available.

How to use this directory

This directory lists 48 summer programs. It is divided into three sections: camp, counselor-in-training and tutorial programs.

■ Camp Programs

These summer programs offer a variety of fun learning activities including sports, arts, crafts, theater, swimming, computers, science, reading and other enrichment activities, and much, much more. Both residential and day summer programs are offered. Pick a program that best suits your child’s interests.

■ Counselor-in-Training (CIT) Programs

These programs offer older youth who are too young to work a regular job the chance to earn a little money and receive training as assistants at camps or other summer programs. Many of the programs offer a small stipend while helping teens gain important leadership skills. You’ll want to sign up quickly for these programs as CIT internships go fast!

■ Tutorial Programs

These programs encourage your child’s love of learning and academic success – with an emphasis on fun. Each program is different. Review the program descriptions, talk with program staff and select the program that will meet your child’s academic needs and interests the most.

How do I enroll my child in one of these programs?

Contact the program directly as soon as possible. Use the contact information listed in the program listings. If one program is full, call another. There are many options available for children and youth living in the Greater Hartford area.

Are there other summer programs available for children and youth in Greater Hartford?

Yes. For information about summer programs not listed in this directory, dial 2-1-1. Also be sure to review the Hartford Department of Families, Children, Youth & Recreation programs on page 13. The Agency Phone Index on page 33 can also be helpful in finding additional programs.

2-1-1 can also help families find other services, including free summer food programs for kids, food cooperatives and food pantries, housing information, benefits assistance, health care options, childcare programs, services for children with special needs, and much more. Dial 2-1-1 anytime day or night to talk to a 2-1-1 specialist or search the online database at www.211ct.org. Click on 2-1-1: Search for Services in Connecticut. You may also reach 2-1-1 Child Care by dialing by 1-800-505-1000 Monday through Friday between 8am and 5pm, or by using the 2-1-1 Call Menu.

Spring 2015

Dear Families,

Let's celebrate summer! It is a wonderful time for families and for keeping youth engaged. During the summer, math and reading skills learned in school can fade if students are not involved in interesting activities that reinforce those skills. Many parents look for summer programs that will engage their children in activities that can help them continue to learn, promote healthy development and have fun at the same time. This directory, which we have been proud to publish in collaboration with the Hartford Public Schools for many years, provides information about summer school and other local programs, including programs for persons with special needs and senior citizens.

The Hartford Foundation for Public Giving is pleased to work with agencies to develop strategies to support busy parents in their efforts to encourage their children to read more and to continue to develop their academic and other skills.

Many of the summer programs listed in this directory are free or offer reduced fees, so we encourage parents to ask about financial assistance. We also invite parents and other adults looking for support in developing their job skills and connecting to training or employment to review the workforce development opportunities included in the back of this directory.

Enjoy the summer!

Sincerely,

Linda J. Kelly

Where the future is present.

Beth Schiavino-Narvaez, Ed.D.
Superintendent

Spring 2015

Dear Parents:

As Superintendent since July, my goal of hitting the ground learning has helped me understand the story of Hartford. Through the work of the Transition Committee I arranged upon my arrival, we have identified both strengths and challenges in our story. While there has been significant success, there is more to do. To ensure each and every student thrives in our district, I am reaching out to you to encourage you to involve your children in both learning and fun experiences during the summer.

Research indicates that all youth experience significant learning loss when they are not engaged in educational activities during the summer months. For this reason, Hartford Public Schools collaborates with multiple partners and agencies to provide a range of quality opportunities to support Hartford children and youth in their developmental growth year-round.

This resource guide provides all the information you will need to identify summer programs that are best-suited for your children. From our Early Start program, to horseback riding with Ebony Horsewomen, Inc., Camp Courant, and our beautiful parks and recreational centers, it's all here! Through these programs, young people in Hartford will have new opportunities to cultivate their curiosity, build their individual identities, explore new friendships, and practice or master new skills.

I am honored to serve as superintendent and to join forces with each and every one of you as we focus on a vibrant and transformative future for all of our students.

Sincerely,

Beth Schiavino-Narvaez, Ed.D.
